

Hope-Filled Ideas From FamilyLife Ministry®

Serving Leaders in Ministry

Pastor: In this time of sheltering in place, social distancing, and quarantining with your family, sharing the following ideas from FamilyLife® could be helpful to you, your leaders, and your congregation families. The following excerpts are from the FamilyLife® website:

Maybe you are a single mom wondering if the walls of your Brooklyn apartment are going to suffocate you. Perhaps, you're in a struggling marriage and a new commitment to date nights out was giving you fresh hope. Maybe you're two working parents, who just added "homeschool teachers" to your resume. You may have a blended family, whose newly established patterns are disrupted . . . again.

Yet, during massive uncertainty, I see an uncanny beauty. Everything else in our world is shutting down. Yet home is being restored as the main hub of society and regaining its rightful, holy place. I wonder, and I pray with hope, "God, what are You up to?"

At FamilyLife®, we believe your family can grow closer to God, grow stronger together, and serve your neighbors abundantly during this crisis. I look forward to sharing the incredible things our team has planned and partnerships we have formed to come alongside you and your family in this unique season.

You can start here:

Listen to our special episode of FamilyLife Today®:

“The Coronavirus: Responding to Fear with Wisdom and Faith”

Build faith into your kids. We have partnered with Phil Vischer, creator of Veggie Tales, as he launches a new way to bring faith to our kids. He is offering free access to his full digital library exclusively for our FamilyLife audience. Take advantage of this moment to disciple your kids.

CODE: FamilyLife

Please note that this offer is only good for six weeks of free content.

Join our #LoveYourNeighborhood challenge where families around the country are creatively finding ways to be salt and light, even at a socially acceptable distance!

Subscribe to our weekly Help & Hope email: We'll keep you up to date with your regular dose of ways to connect with each other at home, navigate this with your family, and choose faith over fear.

FAMILYLIFE®

Help for today. Hope for tomorrow.

