

Chip Burrus is Vice President of Corporate Security for Penske Corporation, a privately held diversified transportation services company and with a highly successful race team. He graduated from Wake Forest University School of Law in 1983 and served as a Special Agent for the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) for the next 24 years. He led investigations involving public corruption, fraud, and kidnapping and in 2005, was named Assistant Director overseeing all FBI criminal investigations. He retired from the FBI in 2007 and now works with three other partners to address all Penske security matters.